

Statistical & Fiscal Digest 2025

DLT
Department of Labor and Training
RHODE ISLAND

Preface

The Statistical and Fiscal Digest is published annually by the Rhode Island Department of Labor and Training's Labor Market Information Unit - a centralized state resource for the collection, analysis and dissemination of data pertaining to labor market statistics in Rhode Island. The Department of Labor and Training's primary function is the protection and advancement of the Rhode Island workforce. In order to fulfill its mission, the Department administers a variety of programs including temporary income support, reemployment services and occupational safety enforcement.

This digest contains summaries of funding sources and expenditures, as well as detailed activity reports for nearly all Department programs. A number of selected tables showing labor force, employment, unemployment and wage data are also included.

"Governor McKee issued Executive Order 21-102 which provided the department flexibility to change the computation date for the UI Tax schedule to November 15, 2021 and Executive Order 21-117 which allow for the 2021 taxable wage base to remain in effect for tax year ending December 2022. Both these orders were issued to lessen the burden the Covid-19 virus place on the state's employers."

The current tax schudele took effect with Tax Year 2017.

Tax Schedules, Reserve Ration and Taxable Wage Base were revised by 1997,1998, 2000,2011& 2016 Legislation.

The 0.03% ES Re-employment Fund Assessment expired at the end of 2003.

Beginning with Tax Year 2012 the taxable wage base was set equal to 46.5% of the annual average wage of contributory employees. For employees at the highest tax rate (9.79%) the wage base is $1,500 dollars higher.

Workshare is a voluntary Unemployment Insurance program which provides employers with an alternative to layoffs. Employers participating in this program are allowed to divide available work hours among a specified group of employees as an alternative to totally laying off a portion of the group. Affected employees are eligible to receive a percentage of their unemployment insurance benefits equivalent to the reduction in hours. Workshare became effective October of 1991.

Temporary Disability Insurance (TDI) – Provides a partial wage loss replacement to workers unable to work due to a non-work related illness or injury. The TDI program also provides up to eight weeks of benefits in a twelve-month period to be used for bonding with a child or caring for a seriously ill family member. These benefits are referred to as Temporary Caregiver Insurance (TCI).

An indemnity injury is a work-related injury or illness for which workers' compensation disability benefits are paid. For a non-indemnity injury, medical benefits may be paid, but workers' compensation disability benefits are not.

The overall rate of injuries to employment has dropped from 4.30 in 2013 to 2.84% in 2025. The rate of indemnity injuries per employment dropped from 1.29% in 2013 to 1.04% in 2025. The rate may be affected by increased employment and mandatory electronic reporting. The rate of non-indemnity injuries declined from 3.01% in 2013 to 1.80% in 2025.

Nearly all RI workers are eligible for Unemployment Insurance (UI) Benefits. Unemployment Insurance is entirely financed by employer contributions. In 2025, RI employers paid nearly $263.4 million in taxes and workers collected over $230.8 million in benefits.

* Prior years were last published in the 1967 Statistical & Fiscal Digest.
In 2020, the federal government funded 50 percent of the Extended Benefits costs associated with State and Municipality accounts and 100 percent of the Extended Benefits costs associated with all other accounts.

The Temporary Disability Insurance (TDI) Program is entirely financed by worker contributions. In 2025, RI workers covered by TDI contributed nearly $306 million in taxes and collected more than $263 million in TDI and TCI benefits. At the end of 2025, there was more than $109 million available for benefits in the TDI fund.

* Includes deduction for $20 million loan to General Fund.
 Includes repayment for $20 million loan to General Fund.
 Temporary Caregiver Insurance (TCI) benefits became available in January 2014. This program currently provides up to seven weeks of benefits in a twelve month period to be used for boding with a child or to care for a seriously ill family member.

Employment refers to those persons aged 16 years of age or older who did any work at all as paid employees during the reference week of the 12th of the month; worked in their own business or on their own farm, or worked without pay at least 15 hours in a family business or farm. Also included are persons who were temporarily absent from their jobs because of illness, bad weather, vacation, labor-management disputes or personal reasons.

Unemployment refers to those persons who had no employment during the reference week, who were available for work; and made specific attempts to find work during the four-week period ending with the reference week. Persons laid off from a job and expecting recall need not be looking for work to be counted as unemployed.

Unemployment Rate is the number of Unemployed as a percent of the Labor Force.

Labor Force is the sum of the Employed and the Unemployed.
